

What Everyone Wants

One of the hardest things in life is to give what you don't have. Yet in spite of this fact, everyone wants to receive what they don't have. Then when we've finally gotten what we've always wanted, it sometimes becomes more of a challenge to let go of it when necessary. It can be very difficult to express what you have never experienced firsthand. This is why many people oftentimes expect to experience love before expressing love. If ever you find yourself in need of true love, this book will help you to identify with what everyone wants in life. Antonio Dover Antonio Dover is truly an inspiration to his local community and a shining example of the extremely talented and motivating individuals that are found serving the homeless community. Upon navigating his way out of years of experiencing homelessness and dismal poverty, Mr. Dover immediately found his place among his previous peers. Aside from his current career or perhaps supplemental to, he uplifts all those around him. He volunteers with several organizations and sponsors individuals eager to escape homelessness and the learned hopelessness that often comes with years of struggles and slammed doors. Reading his poetry is certainly an emotional experience that will stir angst and awe from members of all spectrums of society; the rich or the poor, the invested or not so interested. He gives our community hope and the homeless a reason for a tomorrow. He advocates for a better future for all of us. I appreciate his work and his words and I know that you will too.
