

The Mayor and the Garbage: The Teen Who Saved His Town

When 15 year old Mike DiMaggio discovers that the fish in the creek near his home are all dead, he tries to find out what killed them. Could it be poison, fertilizer from nearby farms, or leakage from the nearby landfill? Determined not to give up until he discovers the cause, he has to fight with everyone from his dad who works at the landfill, to the County Commissioners. Then, disaster strikes, and the entire community is in danger of being wiped out. Is this the end of their tranquil, rural existence?
