

New Jersey for Progressive Farmers (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from New Jersey for Progressive Farmers In proportion to its area New Jersey leads all states east of the Mississippi River in acreage and total production of alfalfa. On the same basis it leads all states in poultry and potato production. Three of its counties are among the five largest producing sweet potato counties in the United States and the State holds the dairy record for the highest county production per cow. New Jersey's crop of blackberries and dewberries is the largest, and its asparagus crop is the second largest, in the country. It raises more than one-half of the pepper crop, and one-third of the cranberry crop. Contrary to the general opinion that the States agricultural activities are confined mostly to the raising of fruit and truck, it can be shown that New Jersey produces annually over $25,000,000 worth of dairy products, $17,000,000 worth of corn, $14,000,000 worth of hay, and $19,000,000 worth of potatoes.
