Id get a colorful napkin for the tray so the cups wouldnt slide around. And Id pick two really pretty china mugs with flowers or fruit on them and two little dessert napkins. Celebrate the joys of family in Judy Watsons charming new childrens book, Peppermint Tea and Graham Crackers at Grammas House. Seven-year-old Ethan loves watching television. But when he goes to spend the day with his Gramma, he discovers that there are exciting adventures everywhere you look! In prose that is perfectly suited for children ages four to seven, Ethan recalls all the fun and quiet joy of watching birds play in the yard, digging a garden, baking cookies, and swimming with his doting Gramma. Audiences will love following Ethans adventures as he plays with the dog, builds a pillow fort, swings on a hammock, and much more! A wonderful book to inspire memories of ones own, Peppermint Tea and Graham Crackers at Grammas House is the perfect addition for children and grandparents alike.
