

The Weather-Proof Salesman

The Weather-Proof Salesman is the discovery of the Western culture through the eyes of a migrant. The story is set against the backdrop of the work-life experiences of the author, who migrated from Kenya to live in South Africa, and then later to Australia. The experiences strike a familiar chord with people from all walks of life. The book contains simple and practical strategies to combat cultural as well as professional challenges for both migrant and local employees and line managers.
